

Project Proposal Activity

From Field Study to Live CDS Event

THEME

Cultural Diplomacy and Creative Economy

The Cultural Diplomacy Spaces (CDS) Network (cds.thescsd.org) is a CSCD initiative — a worldwide network of host institutions convening cultural diplomacy under one framework of six pillars, where approved proposals earn an official reference and publish to a global calendar. For this activity you enter that same pipeline: you are not designing a hypothetical but drafting a real initiative that, once approved by the CSCD Committee, runs as a live CDS event in October.

Your task is to translate what you observed at ASEAN and the Ministry of Culture into such an initiative. Working under the theme Cultural Diplomacy and Creative Economy, each delegate designs one proposal; each team then selects and jointly delivers one approved proposal as a live event.

HOW YOU DO IT

Go into Jakarta and let the city teach you — visit a museum, a batik workshop, a gallery, a market, a performance; talk to people and watch how craft and daily life carry meaning and sustain an economy around them. Then think out of the box: the strongest proposals don't restate what you saw, they take one element — a motif, a technique, a conversation, a contradiction — and build something new that meets CSCD's standard: rigorous, cross-border, and worth convening.

WHY THIS ACTIVITY

This is not an exercise on paper. Its purpose is to give you first-hand experience of planning and development — from a field observation to a fully designed initiative — and a real opportunity to work with CSCD. The proposal you write here can become a live event on the network. You are trusted to think like a practitioner, not a participant.

BEFORE YOU WRITE: GROUND YOURSELF

Hold three things in mind as you design:

1. ASEAN as a regional body — how it convenes culture across member states.
2. Indonesia's cultural policy — the Ministry of Culture's cultural-economy model (heritage as an economic and diplomatic asset).
3. The CDS framework — six pillars, one review pipeline, an official record at the end. Your proposal must speak this language.

THE STEPS

STEP 1 Choose your pillar individual

Declare exactly one of the six CDS pillars: Open Research, Scholar Exchange, Cultural Calendar, Diplomatic Simulation, Creative Lab, or Global Network. Within your team, coordinate so the five proposals spread across different pillars rather than clustering on one.

STEP 2 Anchor your event in October individual

Your event must fall in October. You may build it around an international or UN observance day if one fits your theme (e.g. World Teachers' Day Oct 5, UN Day Oct 24, World Day for Audiovisual Heritage Oct 27, World Cities Day Oct 31) — but this is optional, not required. What matters is a clear, well-justified October date that suits your programme.

STEP 3 Design the event group brainstorm, individual proposal

Brainstorm within your team, but propose individually. As a group, generate and pressure-test ideas together; each delegate then develops and submits their own. Decide the format — webinar, seminar, lecture, or simulation — delivered hybrid or virtual. Build a 60–90 minute run-of-show with a clear objective, an interactive element, and a defined output (recording, brief, exhibition, or published finding). Keep your design anchored to the theme — Cultural Diplomacy and Creative Economy — and show how it connects the 20 nationalities or links two or more CDS spaces.

STEP 4 Fill the proposal form individual

Log in to the CDS portal using the credentials on your YPDS portal. Complete the project proposal form in full, attach any supporting document, and submit. Each delegate submits one proposal.

STEP 5 Present group activity, individual participation — YPDS Day 3

On Day 3, each team presents as a group — but every delegate participates by presenting their own proposal. The team delivers one slide per event, with the deck running to no more than 7 slides total. Use a shared template so the set reads as one cohort. Each slide carries: Title · Pillar · Format + October date · One-line objective · One visual.

STEP 6 CSCD Committee approval

The CSCD Committee reviews and approves the projects it will officially take forward. Approved teams are cleared to work with CSCD through the month of October, delivering their initiative as a live event published to the network calendar.

STEP 7 Deliver team

Work together, start to finish, to deliver your approved event on its October date — executed jointly with CSCD and recorded on the network's official calendar.
